VICTORY LOAN DRIVE OPENED MONDAY MORNING

The Victory Loan opened Monday of this week with the schools in the State spearheading the E-Bond sales campaign toward Mississippi's $17,000,000 goal, according to Rex I. Brown, State Chairman.

"Hancock County is determined to reach its goal in the Loan Campaign," stated W. J. Gex, Jr., War Loan Drive Chairman. "We owe it to the boys still across the waters and to the thousands who are still suffering from the wounds of war to do our duty and show them in the Victory Loan that we want to have a part in the winning of peace, also."

The record of Walnut Grove, in Leake County, is a challenge to every Mississippi community. Mrs. J. R. Upton, Town Chairman, reported the $7,000 E-Bond quota over subscribed by $2,000 at 10 a. m. on Monday morning. Hancock County War Finance officials said this record shows that the last assignment can be met quickly if every war finance worker and our citizenship awaken to their responsibilities.

Hospitalization is expensive. It costs approximately $3,000 for the average treatment of the sick and wounded. If for no other reason this alone is a challenge for immediate support of the Victory Loan Campaign.

"These are busy times in the State and every citizen wants to lose as little time as possible from his personal affairs," war finance leaders said. "But, we have a job to do—our final job and it is up to us to match the record of our soldiers, sailors, and marines and finish the fight."

Memorial Services For J. P. Drake

The Bay St. Louis Masonic Lodge held a memorial service on Friday evening for James Perry Drake who died here on September 11.

The Ritual of the Lodge of Sorority was followed and Dr. James A. Evans gave the eulogy.

A choir from the Order of Eastern Star under the direction of Mrs. W. W. Stockstill sang "If I Were With My Soul" "Abide With Me," and "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again."

It was a most impressive, simple service in keeping with the type of man whom they were honoring for he cared nothing for the plaudits of the throng but only for the things of life that are lasting and in keeping with the life of a Christian.

Dr. Evans paid high tribute to the man whom he said he first knew as a 12 year old boy who impressed him because of his courage to do what he considered the correct thing to do. This he said had characterized Perry through life. In closing Dr. Evans said, "Perry was a good man and no more can be said of anyone."

Awarded Bronze Star Medals

With the 37th Infantry Division on Luzon—Two men of the Bay St. Louis vicinity have been awarded Bronze Star Medals for "heroic achievement" during the battle for Manila.

They are: Sgt. James J. Arnold, 35, son of Mrs. Stella D. Arnold, 131 Washington Street, Bay St. Louis and Private First Class Randolph J. Ladner, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladner, Waveland. Both are members of the 129th Infantry Regiment and soon will be on their way home with the returning 37th Infantry Division.

Arnold and Ladner members of a five man group that displayed great courage and stamina by carrying five 100-pound cases of 37 millimeter ammunition 500 yards to the front under constant fire, their citation explains. This enabled an anti-tank gun to neutralize an enemy observation.

Both men have been overseas 29 months and also wear the Combat Infantryman Badge, Soldier's Good Conduct Medal, Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with two battle stars and the Philippine Liberation ribbon with one star.

Their regiment has fought the Japs on Bougainville in the Solomons and at Fort Stotsenburg, Manila, Baguio and the Cagayan Valley on Luzon.

Meeting of Jive Hive

There was a meeting of the members of Jive Hive at their center on Tuesday night when reports were heard from the committees on the dance they are giving on Halloween night, October 31, from eight to twelve at the Bay High gym. From all accounts this will be the teen-agers' night. All Jive Hive members are urged to be present.

The resignation of Miss Julie Elliott as publicity chairman was read and accepted and Miss Barbara Dresher was elected to fill the vacancy.

K. OF C. SPONSORING BLOOD BANK

The Knights of Columbus are sponsoring a Blood Bank, the blood plasma to go to the Kings Daughters Hospital here.

The date has been set for Wednesday, November 14 at the Bay High School gymnasium and the hours are 9 to 12 — 12:30 to 5. Donors will please write or telephone Mrs. George R. Rea, telephone 246, for appointments.

Don't read this lightly and then dismiss it from your mind. This is important. Your local hospital needs the blood. Give your blood for your fellow men.

First Social By S. S. C. Sodality a Success

The first social of the Blessed Virgin Sodality was an impromptu affair given at St. Stanislaus Gymnasium, with approximately 210 Sodality and other guests present.

Dancing was the evening's entertainment but a most interesting program was rendered by the Glee Club under the supervision of Brother Felician.

The entire Club sang "All Through the Night and Jeanie."

The Sleepy Joe Quartette—Norbert and Norman Carnovale.

Cathedral Meditation—Joseph Fasold and J. T. LaNasa.

The pantomime singing of Figaro, from the Barber of Seville by J. H. Bonck was very outstanding, as the young man had the timing, expression and moving of the mouth with such perfect accuracy, many thought he was singing the opera.

Solos—The More I See You and Till the End of Time—Warren Geinle.

The feature entertainment of the evening was a Tag Dance in which two factors participated—The Hatfields and the McCoy's. As a member of either side was tagged, he had to retire to his respective bag and at the end of the dance pay a forfeit.

W. Hodgson—a Hatfield had the honor to roll a banana across the floor on all fours. At intervals he had to stop and drink a coca-cola and at the end his reward proved to be the banana. Toby Scafide, another Hatfield, proved a very good radio announcer of singing commercials.

Chas. Johnson and Miss Gloria Saucier, as McCoy's add to dance to a medley of different type songs, and sing "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean" between the songs.

The entire evening was most delightful and all expressed regrets when it was over.

Meatball Supper For S. J. A. Mothers Club a Success

All reports of the Meatball-Spaghetti Supper say it was a grand success. The exact sum realized cannot be given at this time as all returns for tickets are not in. The committee is taking this means to thank everyone who helped in any way to achieve this success. Special thanks is also given to Mr. Tony Benvenuti, who left his own business to attach gas stoves in the hall, in order that enough stoves would be available.

The supper was sponsored by the Mothers' Club of St. Joseph Academy.

COLMER GROUP VISITS EISENHOWER

Washington, D. C. (Special)—The seven-man group of the House Postwar Economic Policy and Planning Committee of the National House of Representatives returned several days ago from a two month tour of fourteen European countries, which they visited for the purpose of determining the economic conditions in Europe and the possibility of foreign trade in the postwar era. Upon their return Congressman Wm. M. Colmer, Chairman of the Committee, issued a statement making certain recommendations with reference to our postwar dealings with these countries, principally England and Russia.

Mr. Colmer, as spokesman for the Committee, stated that it was highly desirable in the interest of world peace and American foreign trade for the United States to cooperate with England, Russia and the other foreign countries; but that this cooperation should not always be a one way street. That America has spent more than 250 billion dollars and suffered many deprivations, not to mention the stupendous casualties among our American servicemen. That it sought no additional territory; that its only objective was world peace, and that it was felt that we have the right to expect the cooperation of our Allies in that coveted goal. He strongly hinted that we are not getting that cooperation in some quarters.

"The Committee is convinced," Colmer said, "that expanded world trade in the postwar era is not just a dream but an achievable goal. However, Europe is so exhausted, and there are so many artificial obstacles to the resumption of full world trade now that there must be a give-and-take attitude all around. We feel that the United States does not necessarily want to take, but there comes a time when giving must stop and value be received. That time is here."

"The group," Mr. Colmer stated, "is unanimously of the opinion as a result of the European tour that the American backbone should be stiffened in its negotiations with the European leaders. The United States cannot always play Santa Claus to the world."

While in Europe the Committee conferred with both the military and civil American officials, as well as the rulers, ministers and other important officials of the countries visited. Outstanding among those interviewed were Prime Minister Atlee, General Eisenhower, Generalissimo Stalin, General Clay, Assistant Secretary of State Clayton, Assistant Secretary of War McCloy, and America's English Ambassador Winant and Russian Ambassador Harriman.

Regarding their visit to Germany, the group expressed the thought that Germany presented a picture of utter destruction and desolation; that the whole of Germany is now a monument to the folly of Hitler. They reported that transportation, medicine and food are badly needed in Germany, if only to keep her from becoming a source of "pestilence and plague." "A hungry people is a dangerous people," General Eisenhower was quoted as having told the Committee on its visit with him.

The Congressman suggested the following four-point program to build up world trade:

1. An "open door" policy by the Soviet Republic, permitting free exchange of information and access such as the United States offers to all her international friends.

2. Elimination of trade barriers which exist in the system under which the British Empire operates to the injury of American trade.

3. Reconstruction of Germany, without armaments of course, so that Germany can again become a factor in America's world trade.

4. A revamping of the machinery for disposal of surplus property abroad, a tightening of that machinery so that it can become an asset to help distressed nations and at the same time get dollar value for Americans.

Those making the trip, in addition to Chairman Colmer, were Representatives Zimmerman (Mo.), Wolverton (N. J.), Hope (Kansas), Wolcott (Mich.), LeFevre (N. Y.), and Simpson (Ill.), Mr. Marion Folsom, Director of the Committee's staff, Dr. William Y. Elliott, Vice-Chairman of the War Production Board, Mr. James J. Farris, representative of the State Department, and Major Mossmiller, of General Eisenhower's staff.

Diphtheria A Menace To Local Children

According to Dr. C. M. Shipp, Hancock County Health Officer, two cases of diphtheria have been reported in this county in the last few weeks, one of which resulted in death.

"It is a pity," says Dr. Shipp, "for parents to knowingly let their children's lives be endangered by this disease when vaccination gives 100% immunity."

Children can receive this vaccination through their family physician or in the local public health department.

BARN DANCE NETS NEAT SUM

The first major event to raise funds for the projected Hancock Civic Memorial Center, was the Barn Dance, which was held last Saturday night at St. Stanislaus Gym, and from the response of the crowd which turned out we may be justified in saying that the success of the Center is assured. There was a large crowd, and several hundreds of dollars were realized.

Aside from the ultimate good that the money will do, a wonderful evening of hilarity was had by all present, and as they were asked to do, all let their hair down and were boys and girls for the night. Square dances were joined in by most of the guests, with a grand march which like all kids turned into a huge snake before it became a "pop-the-whip," which caused a heap of fun.

Those wearing the outstanding costumes were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weston and Mrs. Rilla Mae Gilmore and Mr. Alden Mauffray. Just as an aside, we want to let you in on a secret, and if you ever want to spend an evening with an old fashioned country couple just call Sue and Hap Weston, because Saturday night proved that deep in their modern hearts beats the naive simplicity of a generation past. And if Slim and Flora will allow Rilla and Alden to pair off for another evening a cuter country girl and boy are not to be found in these hills.

Special thanks from the Garden Club goes to Mrs. Alma Quintini, who gave her time and talents to train and call the square dances.

And to the many who attended the party, the Garden Club wishes to extend its gratitude and to invite everyone to their next shindig.

SINCERITY

SINCERITY, says Webster, is honesty of mind and intention; freedom from simulation, hypocrisy, disguise or false pretenses. How wholesome would the whole universe be if people would only retain in their minds what sincerity really means, and if they would practice it in their every day life.

A splendid opportunity presented itself within the last few weeks for many of our people to prove their sincerity of purpose. The one thought that has been uppermost in the mind of many of our business men throughout the County was to have a real good Chamber of Commerce, free from political entanglements, petty in-fighting, and factionalism. One that would be truly representative of the business interest of the County. One of which it could be said, that no individual or set of individuals had a strangle hold on. One that would build Hancock County. It seemed agreed by all that factionalism would be eliminated, and with a feeling that this would be done, a group of men set out to give to Hancock County a live, active Chamber of Commerce. A membership meeting was held, at which time the election of the directors for the ensuing year was held. We think that a very good selection was made. That the men elected are representative of the business interest of the County. We learned, however, that prior to the membership meeting held on Thursday night past, that considerable influence was brought to bear to elect and or to defeat certain men. This action we understand was taken by a certain group, who for some reason wanted to control the organization. This selfish motive on the part of this group was apparently defeated, for if you will observe from the list of men elected to the Board of Directors, some outstanding businessmen of Bay St. Louis were named, and we feel that these men have no selfish interest, other than to see Hancock County, grow and build, and be a better place in which to live. Where your boy when he returns from having served his Country on the far flung battlefields of the world, will want to live. Where he will feel that he can earn a living, under conditions that will develop in him an incentive also to help build his community. However, that prior to the membership meeting held on Thursday night, and that life is a give and take proposition. That selfish attitudes will not be tolerated. That such attitudes have brought chaos and misery to what was once a peaceful world. That only destruction lies in the wake of selfish interest and motives.

It is also time for such individuals to realize that the rank and file of people usually take statements at their face value. That the sincerity of a person is not usually doubted. That it is of times necessary that the actions of such people bespeak their purposes. We wonder if these individuals who would so boldly attempt to destroy the one civic organization that is so badly needed in Hancock County, before its inception, can feel that from now on, the people of the County will have any faith in any statement that they might make.

It might pay these individuals to become cognizant of the fact, that their actions are not going to be tolerated. That the Chamber of Commerce is not going to be a tool in the hands of any group, to be used for selfish purposes. That it is a business man's organization, to be carried on for the betterment of Hancock County. That it is going to succeed. That factionalism is not going to destroy it. That those who are interested in the building of Hancock County will carry on the fight to remove any impediments that may lie in their course, and as their work progresses may it be said of them that they were above selfish interest and motives, and that their sincerity of purpose could not be questioned.

EASY TO FORGET

IT IS easy to forget that industries are nothing more than a collection of individuals. They have the hopes and the ambitions of individuals. When they lose hope and confidence in the future, they wither. This fact, often lost sight of, is forcefully reiterated in the words of the president of a prominent oil company. In attempting to assess the future of his industry, he said:

"We approach our present forecasting problem in much the same spirit as a well-educated young man about to marry. He does not know for whom he will be working or how much he will earn or just what his financial requirements will be; but he has supreme confidence that given his health, he will be able to make a good living and give adequate support and protection to his family, though at what precise level the balance will be struck he cannot predict. The only important 'if' in his mind is the question of continued health and freedom of opportunity—and that is exactly the feeling of the petroleum industry as it looks ahead into the future. Given a continuation of a legal and economic climate conducive to free competition in discovery, research, development, and distribution, the industry knows a dozen ways in which any possible demand can be met, even though it cannot predict just which of these methods will prove most efficient and economically desirable when the times comes."—Industrial News Review.

Don't forget that the war will not be over, so far as the United States is concerned, until all our veteran soldiers and sailors have been brought home.

ORTTE THEATRE SUNDAY-MONDAY "MAIN STREET AFTER DARK"

Edward Arnold, the villainous vizier of "Kismet" and scheming business man of "Mrs. Parkington," brings an engaging new detective character to the screen in his latest picture. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's dramatic thriller, "Main Street After Dark," which will show at Ortte Theatre, Sunday and Monday.

As Lieutenant Lorrigan, the versatile Mr. Arnold is the chief of the police department's bucco squad, tracking down and trapping the notorious "paddy rollers"—women pickpockets whose special prey is servicemen at embarkation points. The star brings to the role a poise and philosophical viewpoint new in detective delineations.

Arnold heads a hand-picked cast which tells a fast-moving and exciting story of a woman who teaches her family a life of crime, tutoring them with the expert knowledge she has herself acquired in years of underworld work.

Selena Royle plays the crime mother, and her criminal brood are portrayed by Tom Trout, Audrey Totter, Dan Duryea and Dorothy Ruth Morris. Miss Royle, a stage veteran, does her usual outstanding job, and the others most of them screen newcomers, all prove themselves star possibilities through their characterizations.

The role of Keller, the oily "fence" who receives the stolen goods, is in the highly capable hands of Hume Cronyn, who will be remembered for his roles in "The Seventh Cross," "Lifeboat" and "The Cross of Lorraine."

"A MEDAL FOR BENNY" AT A. & G. THEATRE THURSDAY-FRIDAY NOVEMBER 8-9

Outstanding Cast Shines In Picture

Ten-year-old Fernando Alverado is one of the young sensations in the cast of "A Medal for Benny," Paramount's stirring film coming to the A. & G. Theatre, Thursday and Friday, November 8-9.

Dorothy Lamour and the Latin American sensation Arturo de Cordova, have the top roles. J. Carroll Naish plays the father of Benny, who, by the way, never appears in the picture. Young Fernando plays Dorothy Lamour's brother.

The picture promises to be one of the most unusual turned out by Hollywood in a long while. It tells of the effects on a small town and the tangled lives of its inhabitants when one of its humblest sons is awarded a Congressional Medal of Honor posthumously. The town might be any central California community with a population of about 5000, half of which is composed of paisanos, or Mexican Americans. It is called Pantera, because there isn't any Pantera on the map of California.

John Steinbeck and Jack Wagner wrote the original story and Wagner collaborated with Frank Butler on the script. Irving Pichel directed the stirring film. Among the splendid supporting players are found such capable performers as Frank McHugh, Charles Dingle, Pepito, Rosita Moreno and Douglas Dumbrille.

For more than a number of years mutual savings banks in the State of Mississippi have gone thru every cycle of prosperity and depression without ever yet being compelled to tell their depositors, "We are sorry we cannot return your deposits." There is more to a savings bank than safety. ### Sgt. J. R. Cameron With First Group To Enter Agusan

With the 31st Infantry Division in Mindanao—Staff Sgt. John R. Cameron of the 31st Division's 155th Regiment was among the few infantrymen who fought the Japs right up until the moment peace was officially announced.

Cameron, whose regiment helped clear Mindanao's Sayre Highway of Japs last May, was in the mosquito-infested Agusan Valley in north central Mindanao when word of the Jap surrender was broadcast. The night before his outfit had received an attack by 100 Japs, had killed 17 of the enemy and repulsed the remainder. The swampy battleground west of Mindanao's Agusan river was dubbed "Gruesome Valley" by the battalion of infantrymen who reached it after an 80 mile inland water voyage in LCM's and barges. By occupying this valley, the soldiers denied to the Japs a place of refuge after they had been driven out of Mindanao's rich Bukimon province plateau. Cameron and his buddies were the first white men to enter the uncharted swamps.

Cameron is the son of Mrs. L. Cameron, 510 Mill St., Picayune, Miss.—Picayune Item.
